Project report: Todo list

I decided to make a new project from my last. It will be very simple and have the ability to add, remove, and cross off user entered information for a to do list. Not sure how many components it will have but it should be much simpler code because of JSX and neatly organized because of components.